Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Languages (ISSN 2226-471X) is now in its eighth year since its inception in 2015. It is an open access journal which seeks to stimulate debates on key issues in languages and linguistics. We welcome papers at the cutting edge of different fields, ranging from applied linguistics to descriptive and theoretical linguistics. Submissions may consist of research articles and critical reviews as well as proposals for Special Issues where multi-disciplinary approaches and different perspectives on current issues are explored. We invite you to consider Languages as a forum for sharing your work.

Aims

Languages (ISSN 2226-471X) is an international, open access scholarly journal whose central concern is the promotion of understanding the world's languages in all their diversity.

Languages aims to present discussions and developments of multidisciplinary research and thereby generate broad and practical applications for the study of languages in the world of today. Languages welcomes contributions from scholars and researchers working within the framework of any linguistic and theoretical approach. Languages publishes articles, reviews, commentaries, and communications without restrictions on a submission's length. The working language is English; however, research on all languages is welcome.
